

Eat, Walk, Write: An American Seniors Year of Adventure in Paris and Tuscany

At the age of 70 the author retired and set out to fulfill a life long dream of living in another country. He planned to live in the worlds most beautiful city, Paris, for two years, but returned home to California after a year in Paris and Tuscany. He takes you on his journey, experiencing the joys and challenges of living in those two storied parts of the world.
