

Childs Book of Sewing

This delightful and nostalgic 88 page book published in 1951, takes a look at how sewing was taught to children in the mid-twentieth century. Filled with detailed instructions any child can read and also many color illustrations, this is a book which will bring back many memories. From the first page: All by yourself, you can read this book, look at the pictures, and learn to sew! You will need needles and pins, scissors and thread - all the grown-up sewing things you see on this page. Mother probably has almost everything in her sewing basket. Ask her to look on page 86 for the things you will need. Perhaps she will get the things together for you to use. The fun of sewing begins when you take the very first stitch. Needles and pins will be your favorite playthings as soon as you know how to sew. There are so many things you can sew. First you make a book mark. Page 22. Then, a change purse. Page 54. Next you will sew a bean bag. Page 68. Then you will make a sewing kit. Page 76. When you know how to sew you will think of other things to make all by yourself. So turn the page and find out how to start.
