Green-Wood Cemetery was founded in 1838 and soon became one of Americas foremost tourist attractions. It is the resting place for many notables, including Tiffany, Steinway, and Currier and Ives, but the cemetery also has a hidden baseball history. Green-Wood is home to almost two hundred baseball pioneers: members of the Knickerbocker, Atlantic, and Excelsior Clubs of the nineteenth century; Brooklyns beloved Charles Ebbets; stadium owners; ball makers; and the Father of Baseball, Henry Chadwick. The first baseball monument appeared at Green-Wood in 1862 to honor the games first martyr and star, James Creighton Jr., initiating baseballs tradition of honoring its own with stone or bronze memorials. Green-Wood Cemetery has since served as a model for other tributes, including those found at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Yankee Stadiums Monument Park. Baseball Legends of Brooklyns Green-Wood Cemetery, through painstaking research, brings these baseball legends back to life with a compelling array of rare images that tell the story of the games birth in Brooklyn, New York City, and Hoboken.
