

The Emancipated, Vol. 3 of 3: A Novel (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Emancipated, Vol. 3 of 3: A Novel The English artist had finished his work, and the dirty little inn at P?stum would to-day lose its solitary guest. This morning he rose much later than usual, and strolled out idly into the spring sunshine, a rug thrown over his shoulder. Often plucking a flower or a leaf, and seeming to examine it with close thoughtfulness, he made a long circuit by the old walls ; now and then he paused to take a view of the temples, always with eye of grave meditation. At one elevated point, he stood for several minutes looking along the road to Salerno. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
